“Elite Vs Hoi Polloi: To defeat Nobility or join the ranks. Which way, Nigerian youths?”

Greatest Nigerian youths! Fellow Nigerians.... we are at crossroads in the struggle for the survival of our collective Nationhood - which is the Nigerian state.

The 2027 elections again, will offer us an opportunity to reset this country on a glorious path, one envisaged by our founding political elite. One dreamt of by patriotic, enthusiastic and indefatigable Nigerian youths, nationalistic in their approach to doing things. But in reorienting ourselves, we'll easily discover that elections in Nigeria today have become an us Vs them affair...

But it is not an Igbo Vs Yoruba affair, or a political war between North and south, like the puppeteers in government today want you to believe.

It is the “Us” who bear the heavy chains of skyrocketing inflation, VS the “Them” who reap the golden gains of our tax dollar.

The coming 2027 elections might be the last opportunity to reset our country. That's why I'm calling out to my brother in Potiskum, my sister in Badagry. My friend "Bulbuli" in Gwagwalada; a bitter choice we have to bear, weights the air before us!

Which way, Nigerian youths, I ask?

Are we to fight the ruling class, so we too can hoard the gold they stole? No! God forbid our righteous ire, Should end in just a thief's desire!

We must not fight to wear a stolen crown, but to tear down the walls of privilege that divides our society. We must fight to make the poorest orphan know, that he who is of status "low" can be King! Hence, when the adversary approaches you with his rice and rams, or offer cash for your votes, do not join their ranks to loot our Commonwealth, because the daunting task of fixing Nigeria must begin from getting our elections right!

TheKadiriMandate - My Pact with my constituents, and the average Nigerian

My vision to defeat the decadent Nigerian nobility of today, is not by sheer violence, but by the overwhelming force of legislation and visionary policy.

This is my inspiration for seeking your mandate, (fellow Nigerians and the good people of Somolu, Lagos) to the House of Representatives. As outlined in the vision of our campaign (more at www.kadiri.com.ng), my legislative agenda is systematically designed to bridge the chasm between the Elite and the average Nigerian. Hence, my primary mission in the House, will be to dismantle the architecture of inequality brick by brick.

As a testament from me to you, and in furtherance of my vision, these would be the highlights of my legislative sojourn in the 11th assembly.

1. Proposed Education and Tech Empowerment Bill (to democratize access)

If we are to defeat the decadent nobility, we must arm the average Nigerian with a formidable 21st century weapon: which is qualitative, technology-driven education. I will sponsor a bill to mandate a minimum percentage of the federal budget exclusively for equipping public schools with digital hubs, coding bootcamps, and subsidized high-speed internet. This idea is to transform our local schools into centers of global excellence. We want the child of a mechanic in Bariga to have the same digital access as the child of a minister in Maitama!

2. Proposed SME Shield and Grassroots Innovation Bill (For economic Emancipation)

The economic elite maintain power by monopolizing resources and stifling small businesses. I will champion legislative frameworks that grant radical tax holidays and zero-interest micro-credit grants to youth-led startups and Small and Medium Enterprises (SMEs). By decentralizing wealth generation and protecting small businesses from predatory multiple...

taxation, we shift economic power from the cabals back to the streets. We will turn the "Average Nigerian Youths" into a formidable army of entrepreneurs.

3. The proposed Open-Book Public Procurement Bill (To institutionalize Transparency)

We cannot defeat the decadent nobility if we do not cut off the source of their unearned wealth. Corruption is the lifeblood of the political elite. I will aggressively push for a transparency act that mandates real-time, digital public access to all constituency project funds and government procurement processes. When the average Nigerian can see every Naira allocated, tracked, and spent on their mobile phones, the era of the phantom contractor will die.

4. The Civic Engagement & Apprenticeship Framework (Building the Ranks of the Capable)

We need to build a pipeline of principled leaders, so that we do not get swept into the fold of the corrupt when we assume power. I will advocate for a federally backed political and civic apprenticeship program. This initiative will integrate exceptional young minds directly into legislative drafting, local governance, and policy execution. We will train a new generation to serve the masses, not lord over them.

My mission, vision and goal is to forge a new Nigeria where the son of a nobody can become somebody without knowing anybody. Upon this maxim, my political sojourn remains hinged.

Stand with me. Fellow Nigerian youths! Walk with me. Let our votes lead us to redemption and liberation! Cheers to #2027.

Cephas Kadiri
